L.O: To be able to write from a character's view point.

Dear diary, ✓

One sunny morning, ✓ I woke up in a beautiful, loud ✓ city of Rio Negro and I saw something extraordinary! ✓ and found something extraordinary!

I woke up like every normal day to help my loving mom to get coffee beans, it makes me so happy to help her. In the distance, I saw a little ball on the floor, at first I thought oh it's just my annoying neighbors. I was very curious so I went to investigate as I came closer and closer I saw it was the most cutest and adorable creature ever! ✓ It was an armadillo! ✓ Just when I was going to touch it but ✓ mum called me to go to school. ✓ I thought all day about it. ✓

When I got home I wanted to name him Daisy. ✓ he was very angry about that but his real name was Arturo. ✓ His scientific name is Pairsypus. ✓ I didn't want to make him rage with fury but I still called him Daisy. ✓ Suddenly, I heard some coming my brother (my brother is very annoying)

Then my brother saw Daisy and shouted it's a soccer ball. He ran at Daisy. I got very mad at him and I shouted stop. Arturo roled up in a ball because he was very scared.
I told my brother not to tell anyone and he promised he won't.

After a while, I heard loud dogs.
Then I realised Señor Martin was was coming. Suddenly his dogs came and started barking at poor Daisy. I picked him up and ran over fences and went under fences and finally I got to a beautiful place
the Nature Resort. Daisy was so happy and I was too
because he was safe.
I had to go that was sad.

I can go visit him tomorrow. ✓

When I write a diary I need to remember to use punctuation.

LO. (E) JB

wow! What an amazing diary entry with lots of emotive language and sentence
openers!

-> punctuation.
